

AMERICAN FRIENDS OF HEBREW UNIVERSITY

The Hebrew University of Jerusalem (HU) is Israel's foremost institution of higher learning, and an internationally recognized, top-ranked center of scholarship and advanced research. The university is the fulfillment of a dream of Albert Einstein and his contemporaries, and educates the brightest minds from Israel and 70 other countries. Since opening its doors in 1925, HU has served as the gateway to success for Israel's leaders. Distinguished alumni fill the seats in the highest levels of government and on the boards of major companies, including throughout Israel's dynamic biomedical and high-tech sectors. Hebrew University graduates are achieving research breakthroughs and saving lives in the nation's top hospitals.

One Battery Park Plaza, 25th Floor
New York, NY 10004
(800) 567-AFHU (2348)
afhu.org, info@afhu.org

See ad on page 5

AMERICAN SEMINARY FOR CONTEMPORARY JUDAISM

The ASCJ provides professional training and education leading to Rabbinical Ordination and Cantorial Investiture. Since our Seminary doors opened to students in 2004, we have prided ourselves as being different from the options previously available to those seeking to start or advance their professional and volunteer careers in the Jewish community. The ASCJ provides: A non-denominational, yet traditional and comprehensive curricula. An affordable education for working students to realize their goals and potential. Our Distance Learning Program serves those who would be unable to study at a campus due to time, distance or disability. Use of available technologies means that a student is no longer restricted to studying only with those mentors who live within his community. We now have the ability to match mentors and students from various parts of the country so that each student will have the flexibility to study different topics with individuals who have specialized in their areas of interest.

15014 South 9th Street, Phoenix, AZ 85048
(877) 223-0375

americanseminary.org
rabbibeck@rabbibeck.com

See ad on page 50

BORNS JEWISH STUDIES
(INDIANA UNIVERSITY)

The Robert A. and Sandra S. Borns Jewish Studies Program at Indiana University is one of the major Jewish Studies programs in the country. With its highly accomplished faculty of 25; its more than 60 course offerings a year; and its long-running junior year program at Hebrew University, IU has come to be a university chosen by top high school leaders because of the excellence of its Jewish Studies program.

More than $70,000 of scholarships was awarded to incoming Jewish Studies freshmen in Fall 2012, and majors, Jewish sacred music students, certificate students, and Hebrew minor students are eligible to apply for scholarships and professional development funding on an annual basis.

IU Jewish Studies is unique in its active Jewish Studies Student Association, Jewish Studies Graduate Student Association; career counseling and support; and internships.

To pursue Jewish Studies at IU is to be part of an unusually caring program that offers a range of intellectual, cultural, social, and professional opportunities. For information about incoming freshmen scholarships (deadline January 25, 2013) and master's degree program/graduate fellowship applications indiana.edu/~jsp/index.shtml

See ad on page 53

DELET,
BRANDEIS UNIVERSITY

Open Doors with DeLeT and Inspire the Jewish Future: Become a Jewish Day School Teacher. The DeLeT (Day School Leadership through Teaching) program at Brandeis University offers a unique opportunity to earn a Masters of Arts in Teaching (MAT) degree and an initial teaching license from Massachusetts through a 13 month, internship-based program (two summers and the intervening school year). DeLeT prepares—elementary Jewish and general studies teachers, middle and high school Tanakh/Bible teachers and Hebrew day school teachers. DeLeT interns spend a full academic year working in a local day school classroom under the guidance of a mentor teacher. Our DeLeT-Pardes partnership offers an opportunity to combine any of these programs with a year of study in Israel. The program features: generous scholarships, job placement assistance, support during the first two years of teaching, and membership in a growing alumni network.

brandeis.edu/programs/DeLeT
delet@brandeis.edu

See ad on page 54

HEBREW UNION COLLEGE-JEWISH INSTITUTE OF RELIGION*DEBBIE FRIEDMAN SCHOOL OF SACRED MUSIC (NEW YORK)

Established in 1948 as the Reform Movement's institution for the training of cantors and the sustaining of Jewish musical heritage after the Holocaust, the Debbie Friedman School of Sacred Music is a flourishing center dedicated to educating men and women to serve as cantors who inspire worship, innovate new modes of liturgy, teach, coun-

The American Seminary for Contemporary Judaism

Abraham Ibn Ezra The Chofetz Chaim
Rashi, Rambam, Nachmanides
Samson Raphael Hirsch Nechama Leibowitz
and other great Jewish minds
Vilna Gaon Moshe Feinstein
are waiting for you to study with them
Jospeh Soloveitchik Hillel & Shammai
at The ASCJ from virtually anywhere in the world Mordecai Kaplan The Maharal
via our online distance learning programs.
Judah Ha-Nasi Moses Isserles

American Seminary for Contemporary Judaism

15014 South 9th Street, Phoenix, AZ 85048 | (877) 223-0375 | www.americanseminary.org
 Att. Student Services

Where Traditional Jewish Learning Comes Alive

sel, and sustain Judaism. The five-year program of full-time graduate study leads to the degree of Master of Arts in Sacred Music and culminates in investiture as cantor. Students are required to spend their first academic year at HUC-JIR/Jerusalem and continue their next four years of study at HUC-JIR/New York. The Cantorial Music Program in Los Angeles offers classes intended for students who want to become cantors and need additional training or seek to explore whether the cantorship is the appropriate career choice.

1 W. 4th St, NY, NY 10012
 (800) 424-1336 ext. 2207
admissions@huc.edu, huc.edu
See ad on page 48

GRADUATE STUDIES

The School of Graduate Studies, Cincinnati, Ohio, is a center for study, training, research, and publication in Judaic, Hebrew, and Cognate Studies. The School awards Master of Arts, Master of Philosophy and Doctor of Philosophy degrees to students preparing for careers in teaching and scholarship. Major areas of study include: Bible, History of Biblical Interpretation, Ancient Near Eastern Languages and Literatures, Ancient History, Rabbinical Literature from the Hellenistic to Modern Periods, Jewish Religious Thought and Philosophy, and Modern European and American Jewish History. The School welcomes students of all faiths and nationalities who meet high standards of scholarship and who are devoted to exploring Judaic heritage. The Pre-Doctoral M.A. in Jewish Studies and the regular M.A. degree are offered on HUC-JIR's campuses in Cincinnati, Los Angeles and New York. The Doctor of Hebrew Letters (D.H.L.) is available to ordained rabbinical graduates and may be pursued under the supervision of faculty advisors who teach on the same three campuses. The Doctor of Hebrew Studies degree is offered by the Magnin School of Graduate Studies in Los Angeles. The Doctor of Ministry in Pastoral Counseling, designed for ordained clergy of all faiths, is offered in New York.

3101 Clifton Avenue, Cincinnati, OH 45220
 (513) 221-1875 ext. 3238
huc.edu/academics/gradUndergrad
GradSchool@huc.edu
See ad on page 48

SCHOOLS OF EDUCATION

The Rhea Hirsch School of Education (RHSE) in Los Angeles and New York School of Education (NYSOE), offer full-time programs leading to an M.A. in Jewish Education/Religious Education, with the first year at HUC-JIR/Jerusalem, followed by the two-year core in LA or NY. The NYSOE also offers a full-time two year and two summer program and flexible part-time degree programs. Opportunities include a joint degree with rabbinical ordination (LA and NY) and cantorial investiture (NY); a joint Master's in Jewish Nonprofit Management; Ph.D. in Jewish Education (LA). HUC-JIR also offers the Executive M.A. in Jewish Education Program, designed for professional educators with five years of experience seeking to expand their professional learning while continuing to work in their communities, with online courses, intensive seminars on campus, and an Israel seminar. A Certificate Program in Jewish Education for Adolescents and Emerging Adults offers online courses in the areas of adolescent development, experiential learning, program planning, organizational dynamics, uses of social media, the arts, and service learning. The Jewish Early Child-

“Northeastern has a lively Jewish community for students of all backgrounds. Whether you want to study, travel, or schmooze, it’s great to be Jewish here.”

—Arthur Maserjian, '14, a finance and accounting business major and the president of Northeastern Hillel, who is on co-op at Goldman Sachs

SCHOLARSHIP, COMMUNITY, EXPERIENCE

At Northeastern—famous for its cooperative education program—you’ll discover extraordinary opportunities for work and study abroad, a vibrant and distinctive Jewish studies program, and a dynamic intellectual life with exciting performers and speakers. And with transformative birthright trips, weekly bagel brunches at the newly renovated Hillel House, and the annual Jews Cruise, you’ll make the most of a great education while enjoying Jewish life and learning at its best.

Northeastern University

Boston, Massachusetts • northeastern.edu

hood Leadership Institute, co-sponsored by the Jewish Theological Seminary, offers advanced training for those aspiring to leadership in early childhood education. The RHSOE sponsors DeLeT-Day School Leadership Through Teaching, a 13-month Fellowship in Los Angeles and the San Francisco Bay Area. Graduates receive a Certificate in Day School Teaching and California State Teaching Credential Multiple Subject. The NYSOE offers continuing education and certificate programs for teachers and principals and co-sponsors the Leadership Institute for Congregational School Educators. As a result of a generous grant from the Jim Joseph Foundation, generous scholarships are available. 3077 University Ave., Los Angeles, CA 90007-3796 (800) 899-0925, ext. 4221 admissions@huc.edu, huc.edu See ad on page 48

SCHOOL OF JEWISH NONPROFIT MANAGEMENT

Established in 1968 as the founding institution in the field, the School of Jewish Nonprofit Management (SJNM) builds a foundation and network for Jewish professional leadership for graduate students interested in pursuing careers in Jewish social services, Federation, Hillel, social justice, camping, culture, education, Israel, community relations or any other arena of Jewish engagement. This intensive, practice-oriented graduate program provides a solid grounding in nonprofit management and leadership, integrating Jewish history, values, communal trends, and contemporary social research. The two-year program offers a certificate and a Master's degree in Jewish Nonprofit Management. Drawing upon the resources of the University of Southern California, the SJNM also offers dual degree programs within two years with USC's School of Social Work, School of Policy, Planning and Development, Marshall School of Business, and Annenberg School of Communications, as well as a joint degree in rabbinic Ordination or Jewish Education at HUC-JIR. Generous scholarships and financial aid available. 3077 University Ave., Los Angeles, CA 90007-3796 (213) 765-2117 huc.edu/academics, SJNM@huc.edu See ad on page 48

Learn. Lead. Inspire.

"What's happening in Jewish America is a renaissance. It's inclusive, pluralistic, organic, and dynamic. The Spertus degree is fantastic, because it informs how I interact with this community."

Tom Samuels
Membership and Programming Director for the Jewish Reconstructionist Congregation in Evanston, IL

5000+ years of Jewish learning
Fresh, contemporary relevance for you and your career

At Spertus Institute, our accredited graduate programs encourage future leaders to grapple with Jewish ideas in the service of personal, professional, and communal advancement. Masters and Doctoral programs in Jewish Studies are offered onsite in Chicago and through distance learning. Our Master of Arts in Jewish Professional Studies is offered in a cohort model, in Chicago and select other cities across North America.

610 S. Michigan Avenue | Chicago
312.322.1700 | spertus.edu

Spertus is a partner in serving our community, supported by the JUF/Jewish Federation.

SCHOOL OF RABBINICAL STUDIES

Founded in 1875, HUC-JIR is the academic, spiritual and professional leadership development center of Reform Judaism and the oldest institution of rabbinical education in North America. HUC-JIR educates men and women as rabbinical leaders for North American, Israeli and world Jewry. The Rabbinical School offers a five-year program, including study toward a Master of Arts in Hebrew Letters or Master of Arts in Hebrew Literature degree, culminating in rabbinical ordination. The program begins with a required first year of study at HUC-JIR/Jerusalem, followed by four years of stateside studies, with a core curriculum of intensive text study, leadership development, and spiritual growth. Students may augment the rabbinical program with additional Master's degrees in Jewish Education, Religious Education, Jewish Nonprofit Management Service, and the Ph.D. HUC-JIR also offers the Israel Rabbinical Program for Israeli citizens, a four-year program in coordination with a M.A. program in Jewish Studies at an Israeli university.

 3077 University Ave., Los Angeles, CA
 90007-3796
 (800) 899-0925, ext. 4221
 huc.edu/academics/rabbinical
 Rabbinical@huc.edu
See ad on page 48

GRATZ COLLEGE

Gratz College, located in suburban Philadelphia, is the first transdenominational Jewish college in the United States, and has been teaching and training Jewish professionals for more than a century. Today, the College is a dynamic, vibrant, pluralistic institution grounded in Jewish values with both on-campus and online programs in a full spectrum of disciplines, including Educational Technology, Holocaust and Genocide Studies, Jewish-Christian Studies, Jewish Communal Service, Jewish Education, Jewish Non-Profit Management, and Jewish Studies. Gratz College also offers an M.A. in Education, providing advanced training and credentials to hundreds of certified teachers. Gratz is committed to providing today's students, wherever they live, with access to learning at the highest levels of excellence. The College offers a wide variety of programs at the undergraduate, master's, doctoral, certificate, continuing education, and pre-collegiate levels. Additional outreach programs, such as conferences, lectures, concerts, publications, and exhibits, promote Jewish culture in the community at large.
 7605 Old York Road Melrose Park, PA
 19027
 (215) 635-7300
 gratz.edu
See ad on right

HEBREW COLLEGE

Founded in 1921, Hebrew College promotes excellence in Jewish learning and leadership within a pluralistic environment of open inquiry, intellectual rigor, personal

INDIANA UNIVERSITY
JEWISH STUDIES Scholarships

Up to $20,000 each
 Deadline: January 25, 2013
THE ROBERT A. AND SANDRA S. BORNS
JEWISH STUDIES PROGRAM
 at Indiana University Bloomington www.indiana.edu/~jssp

Ψ INDIANA UNIVERSITY

You've taught them everything they know.
 Make a CAREER out of it.
 Become a Jewish Educator!

ONLINE CLASSES
 REGISTER NOW!

Gratz COLLEGE
www.gratz.edu

Inspire the Jewish future
 Become a day school teacher
 Open doors with
DeLeT

Come to Brandeis and earn a Master of Arts in Teaching in just 13 months. Become a general, Judaics, or Hebrew teacher. Generous scholarships available.

brandeis.edu/programs/delet
delet@brandeis.edu

You may also be interested in our sister program at HUC. huc.edu/delet

DeLeT is generously funded by the Jim Joseph Foundation engagement, and spiritual creativity. Its programs include graduate degrees and courses in Jewish studies, education, and leadership; community education for adult learners; and a supplemental Hebrew high school and middle school. Hebrew College relies on the support of its alumni, friends, charitable foundations, government agencies and members of the Jewish community in the United States and abroad.

(617) 559-8737

hebrewcollege.edu

See ad on inside back cover

THE JEWISH STUDIES PROGRAM, ARIZONA STATE UNIVERSITY

The Jewish Studies Program at ASU offers a Bachelor of Arts in Jewish Studies along with graduate training that leads to masters and doctoral degrees in respective disciplines (e.g., Religious Studies and History). Focusing on all aspects of the Jewish civilization, this well-endowed program supports undergraduate and graduate research, presents guest lectures, and encourages students to engage in the study of Jewish history, religion and culture and become involved in Jewish life on campus. In addition to thematic courses, the program offers Hebrew language courses, study abroad programs and formal collaboration with universities in Israel and in Poland.

PO Box 874302 Tempe, AZ 85287-4302

(480) 727-6906

jewishstudies.asu.edu, jewish-studies@asu.edu

See ad on right

JEWISH STUDIES AT NORTHEASTERN UNIVERSITY'S COLLEGE OF SOCIAL SCIENCES AND HUMANITIES

Jewish Studies at Northeastern University's College of Social Sciences and Humanities is an interdisciplinary program embracing history, music, literature, political science, international affairs, gender studies, religion, Hebrew, and more. Northeastern offers a minor, a Combined Major in Jewish Studies and Religion, and the opportunity for additional combined majors. Our classes – taught by a dynamic faculty from a wide range of fields and disciplines – help students develop a more critical and analytical understanding of the religious and secular world around them and prepare them for any field that requires critical thinking and cross-cultural understanding. Graduates go on to careers in education, social services, politics, or Jewish communal organizations; many also pursue graduate and professional studies. Students take advantage of Northeastern's signature co-operative education program for real-world experience, as well as the University's award-winning globalization summer programs to Israel and around the world.

360 Huntington Avenue, Boston, MA 02115

617-373-7045

j.sartori@neu.edu

northeastern.edu/jewishstudies

See ad on page 51

JOSEPH AND REBECCA MEYERHOFF PROGRAM AND CENTER FOR JEWISH STUDIES AT THE UNIVERSITY OF MARYLAND, COLLEGE PARK

The University of Maryland's Meyerhoff Program and Center for Jewish Studies is one of the largest Jewish Studies programs in the country, with a faculty of

GRADUATE PROGRAMS IN JEWISH STUDIES AT THE UNIVERSITY OF MARYLAND

Masters Programs

- MA in Jewish Studies
- MA in Jewish Studies with a concentration in Hebrew Language Instruction (Morningstar Hebrew Language Program)

Doctoral Program

- PhD in the Departments of History, English, Comparative Literature, or Philosophy. Applications are made through those departments.

Opportunities for Professional Students

- MLS and MEd programs with Jewish Studies concentrations
- Graduate and Certificate in Jewish Studies in conjunction with a graduate course of study. Optional public relations core series for Jewish Studies MA students.

Resources

- World-renown faculty at a top public research university
- Growing Library Judaica collection of over 100,000 volumes
- National Archives, Library of Congress, the US Holocaust Memorial Museum, and other museums, agencies, and institutions.

Tuition Assistance and Fellowships are available

The Joseph and Rebecca Meyerhoff Center and Program for Jewish Studies
 0142 Holzapfel Hall, University of Maryland, College Park, MD 20742
 (301) 405-4975 jwst-contact@umd.edu

12 full-time core, and 20 full-time affiliate, members. Undergraduates can major or minor in Jewish Studies, or minor in Israel Studies. Scholarships are available for study abroad in Israel, including faculty-led classes. Graduate students enroll in MA, MLS, MEd programs in Jewish Studies and Hebrew Instruction, and in PhD programs in Jewish History, Comparative Literature, and Philosophy. Some graduate fellowships are available. With 6500 Jewish students, the campus is a subway ride away from the nation's capital, and close to Jewish communities in Baltimore and Washington. It features one of the most active Hillels in the country and the Gildenhorn Institute of Israel Studies.

(301) 405-4975, jewishstudies.umd.edu
jwst-contact@umd.edu
See ad on left

SPERTUS INSTITUTE

We believe that a learning Jewish community is a vibrant Jewish community. We offer a range of dynamic learning opportunities to train future leaders and engage individuals in continuous exploration of Jewish life. Our accredited graduate-level degree programs, in areas that are critical to the Jewish and wider communities, are enriched by exceptional faculty and mentors who create compelling learning experiences that inspire new thinking with real-world application. Programs take place in Chicago, via distance learning, and in select other North American cities.

spertus.edu, dbell@spertus.edu
610 S. Michigan Avenue
Chicago IL 60605-1901
312.322.1700

See ad on page 52

THE JEWISH STUDIES PROGRAM AT THE UNIVERSITY OF VIRGINIA

The Jewish Studies Program at the University of Virginia is entering its second decade. Our goal is excellence in harmony with UVa's commitment to teaching, scholarship, and dialogue. Our internationally recognized faculty includes Elizabeth Alexander, Asher Biemann, Alon Confino, Gabriel Finder, Jeffrey Grossman, Martien Halvorson-Taylor, James Loeffler, Peter Ochs, Vanessa Ochs, Caroline Rody, and JEWISH STUDIES PROGRAM Explore Jewish Studies at ASU!

- Bachelor of Arts in Jewish Studies
- Generous scholarships to students of all majors throughout the university
- Summer intensive Modern Hebrew course at Tempe campus and optional additional weeks in Israel with ASU instructor (apply at <http://cli.asu.edu/hebrew>)
- Study abroad opportunities
- Biblical and Modern Hebrew courses
- Public lectures by guest speakers
- Graduate-level work in the School of Historical, Philosophical and Religious Studies
- Excellent Judaica library holdings for teaching and research
- Diverse student population and great climate

jewishstudies.asu.edu

Jewish Studies at the University of Virginia

• An interdisciplinary program drawing on more than thirty affiliated scholars.

• Jewish Studies Major and Minor in a thriving undergraduate environment.

• Courses in the history, languages, and literatures of the Jewish people in the Diaspora and in Israel, the beliefs, thought, and practices of Judaism, the interaction between Jews and other peoples, and Israeli history and memory.

• Master and doctoral degrees in Jewish Textuality, Practice and Modern Thought through the Department of Religious Studies.

• Graduate fellowships including full tuition, living stipend and teaching opportunities.

For more information, contact Gabriel Finder, Ida and Nathan Kolodiz Director of Jewish Studies, P.O. Box 400286, Charlottesville VA 22904-4286 or visit our website at <http://jewishstudies.shanti.virginia.edu>

Work with outstanding faculty, including:

Elizabeth Shanks Alexander (rabbinic literature, gender); Asher Biemann (modern Jewish thought); Alon Confino (German history, Israeli history and memory); Gabriel Finder (Holocaust, postwar Jewish life); Jennifer Geddes (Holocaust); Greg Schmidt Goering (Hebrew Bible); Jeffrey Grossman (German and Yiddish Literature); Martien Halvorson-Taylor (Hebrew Bible); Phyllis Leffler (public history, southern Jewish history); Daniel Lefkowitz (Israeli culture and anthropology); James Loeffler (modern Jewish history and Jewish music); Peter Ochs (philosophy and theology); Vanessa Ochs (ritual and material culture); Caroline Rody (American Jewish literature); Joel Rubin (klezmer and Jewish music); Alison Weber (Sephardic Diaspora and Judeo-converso history).

Joel Rubin. Undergraduate and graduate students can take courses in Hebrew (classical and modern) and Yiddish, Jewish ritual, ancient Judaism, Hebrew Bible, the rabbinic tradition, classical Jewish political thought, Jewish philosophy, European Jewish history and culture, the Holocaust, Jewish literatures, Jewish music, and Israeli history and life. A distinct strength of the program is its emphasis on the discovery, animated by scholarly rigor, of commonalities among the Jewish, Christian, and Muslim traditions.

GF6N@virginia.edu

virginia.edu/jewishstudies

See ad on page 55

Promote your Jewish studies programs in Moment Magazine.

marketing@momentmag.com

The 2012 Fiske Guide to Colleges mentions the quality of Jewish life at only two schools.
One of them is

University of Michigan

www.umhillel.org