

From Memory to Action

Announced at the Colorado State Capitol during the commemoration of the liberation of Auschwitz, the University of Denver's first-of-its-kind Holocaust professorship focuses on antisemitism awareness. The professorship empowers Front Range communities to confront antisemitism with courage, knowledge, and purpose.

This is what l'dor v'dor looks like today—that's the Denver Difference.

HIGHER LEARNING GUIDE

“Throughout the centuries, when the vast majority of Europe was illiterate, Jews maintained an educational infrastructure as their highest priority. It is no exaggeration to say that this lay at the heart of the Jewish ability to survive catastrophe, negotiate change and flourish in difficult circumstances.”

—Rabbi Lord Jonathan Sacks z”l

THE UNIVERSITY OF DENVER

The University of Denver, a private university that empowers students who want to make a difference, hosts a vibrant Jewish community, with approximately 9 percent of their student population served by Hillel of Colorado and Chabad at the University of Denver. Recognized as one of the top research universities in the country, DU features a strong academic Center for Judaic Studies (CJS), which offers minors in Judaic studies and houses the Rocky Mountain Jewish Historical Society. The

CJS is the fourth-oldest Judaic studies center in the United States and this year is celebrating its 50th anniversary. Find out more at du.edu and du.edu/judaic-studies

MUHLENBERG COLLEGE

Located in Allentown, Pennsylvania, Muhlenberg College is consistently ranked among the top schools in the nation for percentage of Jewish students. We offer an active Hillel and the Leffell Center for Jewish Student Life, and our nationally ranked dining program includes fully integrated kosher dining, under the supervision of Star-K meat and Star-D dairy. No matter what you study, you will be challenged to excel while getting the support you need. Each first-year student has a coaching team—an academic advisor, career coach, and college life coach—to guide them toward their academic, personal, and professional goals.

INSTITUTE FOR ISRAEL AND JEWISH STUDIES
COLUMBIA UNIVERSITY
75
EST. 1950

For seventy-five years, the Institute for Israel and Jewish Studies has been Columbia University's home for the rigorous academic study of Jewish history and culture, and of Israel in all its complexity. Across generations, IIJS has shaped scholars and students through pathbreaking research, innovative teaching, and dynamic programming that carries ideas beyond the classroom.

JBI LIBRARY

Founded in 1931, JBI Library is a non-profit organization that supports anyone who is blind, has low vision, or has a print disability so that they may fully participate in Jewish life—from education and community to prayer and celebration. We are the heart of a community where our patrons can come for accessible books and texts, cultural programs, learning, and all things that connect people to Judaism, culture, and community. We strive to remove barriers to accessibility and inclusion, so that everyone can read, learn, and engage, both with JBI and their local Jewish community—independently and with dignity.

INSTITUTE FOR ISRAEL AND JEWISH STUDIES

Throughout the year, the Institute for Israel and Jewish Studies hosts lectures, book talks, symposia, and film screenings that bring leading scholars into conversation with students, faculty, and the wider community. These programs create spaces for thoughtful inquiry and open conversation about the central issues shaping Jewish studies and the study of Israel. We warmly welcome readers of Moment to attend these events, explore new ideas, and become part of IIJS's vibrant intellectual community.
